

DIRECTORS' DUTIES AND GOOD CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Overview

The Post Office Scandal should have done more than enough to highlight the potential dangers of Directors not understanding the relevant law around their duties, responsibilities and liabilities. Equally important is for them to understand the implications of not complying with those duties, including reputational implications. Our comprehensive online training session is designed specifically for Directors and will include:

- Understanding Directors' Duties and the role of the Board: Learn about the core duties and responsibilities of directors, including statutory obligations under the Companies Act 2006.
- Overview of Corporate Governance: Explore principles of good governance and how they apply.
- Liabilities and Legal Compliance: Gain insights into potential liabilities and how to mitigate risks through compliance with relevant laws and regulations.
- Conflict of Interest Management: Understand how to identify and manage conflicts of interest to maintain integrity and trust within your organisation.

Trainer

The session is run by experienced lawyer, Nick Gould, one of the few corporate lawyers involved in assisting victims of the Post Office Scandal. We are lucky to have him onboard!

The Training

This 2.5-hour introductory session will provide you with the essential knowledge and skills to effectively fulfil your duties and responsibilities as a Director, ensuring your organisation operates within legal boundaries and that Directors have the knowledge and confidence to safeguard effectively the organisation and themselves.

Learning outcomes:

- Understand the key duties, roles and responsibilities of directors.
- Explain the legal issues, liabilities and sanctions applicable to directors.
- Describe how to manage the relationship between the company and its shareholders and other stakeholders.
- Understand what good boardroom practice and board relationships look like.

Training Details:

- Format: Online.
- Duration: 2.5 hours (can be adapted to suit requirements).
- Date and Time: Please contact us.
- Cost: £650 plus VAT per person (discounts available for group bookings).
- Delegate pack: included.